? FAQ'S

We're here to answer any and all questions. Look for details below, or book a complimentary consultation to discuss a treatment with one of our certified Medi-Beauty experts.

- Q: Should I expect downtime after an IPL treatment?
- A: After your treatment, brown spots or discolorations will appear darker, and your skin will look slightly pink. The darkened spots will flake off and/or fade, and the redness will decrease. Note: The team at MB will have you looking gorgeous before you leave.
- Q: What's the difference between a chemical peel and microdermabrasion?
- A: Microdermabrasion is a mechanical form of exfoliation, which exfoliates the top layer of the skin. A chemical peel is a liquid form of exfoliation, and penetrates the epidermal layer of skin (so it exfoliates from the inside out). If your skin is feeling dry or dull, book a complimentary consultation and one of our medical skin care therapists can recommend the treatment that best suits your needs.
- Q: Are your medical corrective procedures safe?

- Q: How do I apply my skincare?
- A: Treat the face starting from the Décolleté (chest) when applying any skincare.
- Q: How often should I exfoliate?
- A: Exfoliating weekly increases product absorption and eliminates dead surface cells.
- Q: Can I just cleanse at night?
- A: Cleansing twice a day is crucial to remove all impurities from the day and oils from your night repair cycle.
- Q: What's the T-zone?
- A: The forehead, nose and chin are labelled "T-Zone" and normally where you appear the shiniest mid day if you're combinational skin.
- Q: Why do I need to tone my skin?
- A: Will it dry me out? Toner is not alcohol...
 It's necessary for normalizing the PH balance of your skin after cleansing.
- Q: Do I need to wear sunscreen in the winter?
- A: Exposure to sunlight, is known to be the leading cause of premature skin aging. UVA rays are present during all daylight hours and throughout the winter months. Although UVA rays are less intense than UVB rays, they are present all year round and depending upon the time of the year, can be 30 to 50 times more prevalent than UVB rays. ... UVB tends to cause damage in more superficial epidermal layers.
